To whom it may concern,

RFSWOLF Entertainment is an independent production company established to produce and distribute socially relevant entertainment that features ethnic and cultural diversity both in front of and behind the camera lens. Our clients include government and private organizations most notably amongst them are National Institute of Health and Sciences, Children's Television Workshop (Sesame Street), Lincoln Center's Society, and the famous La Mama ETC (Experimental Theater Company) in the East Village. As an independent production company our reputation is on the line with every project so it is imperative that we hire not just a personable and upstanding individual in the community but having proficient and talented members of our team is a necessity.

We have worked over 15 years with Thomas Simon (no relation to Randy Simon) as a professional cameraman, sound engineer and a composer. Mr. Simon's composition for Sesame Street confirmed to our clients that he is a truly credit to those responsible for his training and his attitude. He has always performed in an extremely professional manner on the many projects he has worked with us and he exemplifies the individuals that we believe represent our company's ideals.

For our company Mr. Simon's input is not only respected it is encouraged. We will definitely continue our relationship with him and look to his recommendations in project planning, equipment purchases, and especially staffing going forward.

Respectfully,

Mark Harris
